German soldiers who had doubts on the subject of Americans being in France had an eye-opener Tuesday.

A libel suit brought by Hiram Phelps, of Hardinsburg, against the Breckenridge News, for $5,000, was decided in favor of the News.

The Dawson Springs hubbub has exploded, but Dawson is there yet and will always be Kentucky's leading health resort.

Gen. Henri Bethelot, who headed the French military mission to Rumania, is now commanding the Franco-Italian army in the sector between the Marne and Rheims.

French observers report that thirteen enemy airplanes fell in the region over which an American pursuit squadron was patrolling and fighting Tuesday. Within the American lines it had been considered sure that the Americans had downed eight and possibly nine enemy planes.

Of four sons of our only Ex-President fighting for the Allies, one has already fallen in actual combat. Of the six sons of the Kaiser, fighting in the zone of safety for four years, not one has had his uniform even soiled.

The destruction by fire of a new German airbase with twenty-two airplanes near Nivelles is attributed to the work of German revolutionists in the army, says an Exchange Telegraph dispatch from Amsterdam. Nivelles is 17 miles south of Brussels. Ten Belgians and two German non-commissioned officers have been arrested.

Gen. Gouraud, the hero of the Dardanelles, was the French commander who barred the advance of the German crown prince in the Champagne. It was he who, to the east of Rheims, in one day brought the host of Germans to a standstill. This was done with only comparatively insignificant losses among his own men in consequence of his admirable defensive preparations.

COAL MAGNATES AGAINST LIQUOR

TAKE POSITION THAT NATIONAL PROHIBITION IS NECESSARY DURING WAR.

In a recent meeting of the National Coal Operators' Association a special committee on temperance made a sensational report as pertaining to the effect of prohibition upon coal production.

Summary of Report.

A summary of the report of the association's special committee said: "Regardless of political affiliations of the members of the association, and leaving out of consideration the moral issues involved, and basing its opinion entirely on economic and patriotic grounds, the committee unanimously and unqualifiedly believes that national prohibition for the period of the war is absolutely necessary to make effective this or any other plan for increased coal production."

"A comparison of records of production of mines in wet and dry territories furnishes ample proof of the need of prohibition."

A. R. Hamilton, chairman of the committee, made this supplemental statement:

"The committee feels that the drinking evil has become so rampant in the mining communities that its complete elimination is fundamentally necessary in the effort to speed up the mines sufficiently to get the 100,000,000 additional tons of coal this country will require this year. It is now up to Congress to make a clean cut choice between doing for mining communities and coal for the war and the public."

FLEE BEFORE AMERICANS

TWENTY VILLAGES RECAPTURED BY FRENCH AND AMERICAN TROOPS IN COUNTER ATTACK.

BERLIN ADMITS TWO PRIMARIES ALLIED GAINS AUGUST 3

Take All Before Them.

(By Associated Press.)

Paris, July 18.—More than twenty villages have been recaptured by the French and American troops in a great offensive begun this morning, according to the war office announcement tonight, which reports also the occupation of the plateau dominating Soissons on the southwest.

Berlin via London, July 18.—German headquarters this evening chronicled a great counter offensive by the French and Americans today along the Marne as follows: "Between the Aisne and Marne Rivers the French attacked with strong forces and tanks and recaptured some ground. Our reserves which were held in readiness took part in the battle."

London, July 18.—Americans operating in the regions of Soissons, dispatches say, have taken four thousand prisoners, thirty guns and other material which is not yet estimated.

South of Vierzy on the heights north of Ourcq Valley the Germans hastily counter attacked. The situation at this point is obscure. Up to one o'clock this afternoon French troops had captured the heights overlooking Fontenoy. On the extreme left hand they had progressed to Mont de Paris within a mile of the city of Soissons.

Advance Beyond Soissons.

London, July 18.—The American division cooperating with the French troops in counter attacks have captured Vierzy about six miles south of Soissons and have advanced three miles beyond the town, advices say.

Gain Five Miles.

London, July 18.—French troops have gained the ravine at the River Crise running into Soissons on a five-mile front to east of Bazancourt which means a maximum advance at this point of five miles, according to news received in London tonight.

THE LATEST.

(By Associated Press.)

Saratoga Springs, N. Y., July 18.—Col. Theodore Roosevelt delivered a stirring patriotic address before the Republican State Convention today. He didn't either publicly or privately discuss state politics. Although given a most enthusiastic reception no attempt was made to stampede the convention into nominating him Governor.

SIXTH PLANE HEARD FROM

GERMAN PAPER STATES COLLEGE BOY AND OTHERS TOOK TWO AMERICAN AVIATORS PRISONERS.

Amsterdam, July 17.—Particulars regarding the sixth American plane taking part in the air raid on Coblenz last week are given by the Elberfeld General Anzeiger. The newspaper says that at 10:30 o'clock Wednesday evening a 16-year-old college student, named Gerlach, while busy harvesting near the village of Schwarzen in Runsbueck, saw a flying machine at a height of approximately 2,700 feet in flames.

Soon it descended. It was a French biplane armed with three machine guns and bomb throwing apparatus and had two occupants, an American first lieutenant and another lieutenant, who were detained by Gerlach and two other men who turned over their prisoners at 1 o'clock in the morning to the authorities at Kirchberge.

The prisoners, according to the newspaper, said they belonged to an air squadron of six machines, the goal of which was Coblenz and that they had been separated from other flyers during a thunderstorm.

Berlin reported the capture of 5 airplanes out of 6 on July 11 and next day added that the sixth had been shot down.

How Chaplains Are Equipped.

The following supplies are furnished by the Episcopal diocese of Massachusetts to its chaplains in military service: Communion set, recreation tent, motion picture machine with screen, two floor trunks for carrying motion picture outfit, portable altar, candles and vestments, stationery with name of regiment, talking machine with attachment to play any record, typewriter, and auto truck for motion picture equipment. These articles total a cost of $1,445.25, as stated in a report from the Joint Episcopal on special service of the Episcopal diocese of Massachusetts.

WAR PICTURES STIRS CROWD

AT KENNEDY AND DEEP IMPRESSION MADE UPON COMMUNITY.

The Hillis' War Pictures were shown last night to a large audience at Kennedy by R. E. Cooper, Jake Crider, Geo. Smith and Col. W. R. Howell. Before the showing of the pictures Mr. Cooper told of the W. S. S. drive and the registration tomorrow. After the pictures were explained by Jake Crider, Col. Howell made a stirring patriotic speech such as is rarely heard in old Kentucky.

Tonight a great meeting will be held at Pembroke.

HOW GERMANS TREAT FRENCH WOMEN.

Baroness Huard, an American girl who married a Frenchman, says in an article in the August American Magazine:

"Compared with what happened elsewhere, the story of our little village is actually a bright one! The evacuation was so hurried at that point that the Germans did not have time for their usual systematic and atrocious work of destruction. However, the nine days they spent there were black enough."

"The officers and soldiers made victims of every woman in the village—from little girls of only ten years, to old women who were so afflicted physically that any man should have pitied them, even if he did not feel repulsion against them. This I say out of my own knowledge, for it happened in my little village and these women and girls were personally known to me. Mine was only one of hundreds of towns to which the Germans came; and, as I said before, its story is one of the least horrible. But bring it home to yourselves. If you want to know the kind of enemies we are fighting. How would you like them to come to your town?"

RED CROSS.

Much work was done at Red Cross Headquarters yesterday by the following organization:

Mrs. F. P. Thomas, Supervisor.
Workers—Miss Susie Stites.
Miss Mary Cook.
Miss Mary Danforth.
Mrs. J. O. Cook.
Mrs. J. H. Rice.
Mrs. G. A. Johnson.

Mrs. Tillie T. Thomas.
Mrs. W. H. Cobb.
Miss Mary McPherson.
Miss Mary Goldthwaite.
Mrs. S. Sacks.
Mrs. Higgins.
Mrs. Bailey Waiter.
Miss Lula Moseley.

A ham was donated by Mrs. Jim Hollins, of the Madisonville road. Twenty-nine memberships were reported from Haverly.

COLORRED RED CROSS.

Hopkinsville, Ky., July 17.—The White Oak Grove Red Cross met at McClains Chapel with the chairman, Mrs. Willie Rawlins in the chair. We had a large attendance. Lawyer C. W. Merriweather was with us and made an interesting speech concerning the Red Cross work and also about the War Saving Stamps.

We enrolled five new members last night and raised a collection of $6.05. We favored the speaker with two songs by the Red Cross and two solos, sung by Mrs. T. L. Wiggins and Miss Rachel McClains.

We are striving to raise all the money we can for the Red Cross, because we feel it our duty.

Reported by T. L. Wiggins.

Cook Makes Good Start.

"I see you have a new cook." "You are right." "Is she experienced?" "I guess so." She started the first day by coming late, and then asking for the afternoon."

CAVALRY THROWN INTO ACTION TO KEEP PACE WITH THE RETREATING GERMANS.

COMPLETE PLAN ARMY STAFFS TO REGISTER MOVED FORWARD

(By Associated Press.)

TOMORROW WORKED OUT AND SUPPLIES DELIVERED TO OFFICERS YESTERDAY.

A great meeting of the officers and solicitors who are to work in the registration tomorrow was held at the courthouse yesterday from 2 o'clock to 3:30 p. m. People from every school district in the county were present and every seat in the circuit court room was filled and many stood throughout.

R. E. Cooper in a lengthy discussion explained the purpose of the registration and outlined the plan and instructed the workers how it must be done. These plans and instructions have been printed in the papers heretofore and personal letters have been mailed to all the officers and solicitors.

Any person 16 years of age and over who fails or refuses to register as required without a good and reasonable excuse will have their names reported to headquarters. Any person refusing or failing to register without a good, reasonable excuse is liable to be haled into court to show cause or be held in contempt of court and subjected to a fine. These are instructions and warnings sounded by the Council of Defense.

Indications so far indicate that everybody is interested in this registration and will do what he can to help make it a big success.

FAINT HOPE ROOSEVELT LIVES

YOUNG FLIER'S SISTER-IN-LAW CABLES SHE HAS NO CONFIRMATION OF DEATH.

Oyster Bay, N. Y., July 18.—A ray of hope that Lieut. Quentin Roosevelt may not have fallen to his death in a combat with a squadron of German airplanes was brought to Col. Roosevelt and his wife last night in a cable message sent from Paris by Mrs. Theodore Roosevelt, Jr., in which she said the report was "absolutely unconfirmed" there. The former president felt, however, that there only is a slight possibility that his youngest son may still live.

The message from Mrs. Roosevelt, who is doing Red Cross work in the French capital, contained nothing but the simple statement that she had been able to get no confirmation of Quentin's death and Col. Roosevelt feared there was little room to doubt the accuracy of the press dispatches which said the young flier had met a soldier's fate.

The Hopkinsville Tobacco Board of Trade has decided not to close the selling season Aug. 1 as was first discussed but will continue as long as there is tobacco to be offered on the market. The extreme dry weather has kept many people from preparing their crops for the market. The gentle rains yesterday and cloudy weather will probably order the leaf for handling and the market will likely experience more life during the next few days.

The rains came to late to replant many crops that are cut short on account of the dry weather and much tobacco ground has already been planted in corn and peas. The rain was a general one over this entire section and much good to crops will result. However, the tobacco and corn crops will be materially cut this year.

FOR SALE—Baby buggy, good condition. Phone 687. 113-11.

With the American Army in France—American troops had carried all before them today. Late in the afternoon they proceeded so fast that cavalry was thrown into action to keep pace with the retreating foe. All American headquarters staffs tonight were well inside the territory the Germans held this morning.

WAR SUMMARY.

From the region west of Soissons to the northwest of Chateau Thierry the Americans and French are striking the Germans a blow which may have a marked influence on the future of the world's war. The movement is rewarded with great success.

Along the whole of a twenty-five mile front the Americans dashed brilliantly across the German positions killing, wounding and capturing thousands, taking towns, villages, guns and supplies. Nowhere has the enemy stayed an attack though after the first surprise they launched counter attacks. The Americans alone west of Soissons, took four thousand prisoners and thirty guns, while the French have taken additional large number of prisoners. The blow, probably long planned, is aimed at the territory vital to the Germans operating further south.

So fast has the attack progressed that the French or Americans either hold or have under fire lines of supply for the Germans further south.

Six miles is apparently the greatest gain, though along the entire front the line is advanced from four to five miles.

VOLUNTEERS ARE WANTED

The Local Board for Christian county yesterday received several calls for special service men to volunteer for training for chauffeurs, auto mechanics, carpenters, telegraphers, wood workers, plumbers, radio operators, welders, section bosses, buckers, assistant timber men, etc. Kentucky is called upon to furnish in all 797 white men. These men will be given special schooling for 60 days at Government expense and men of the 1918 class as well as 1917 class may volunteer. For some of these positions only men of the 2, 3, and 4th classes will be accepted.

All class one men volunteering must have a grammar school education. For detailed information regarding these various calls registrants should see Mrs. Gillock at the Local Exemption Board office at once. These are very attractive places and many should volunteer at once.

NORWEGIAN SHIP SUNK IN MID-OCEAN.

Washington, July 18.—Information came to the navy department yesterday that the Norwegian sailing ship Marosa was sunk by a German submarine 1,200 miles east of New York on July 7. Previous reports said the vessel was destroyed off the coast of New Foundland. The crew has been landed at Nova Scotia. On the following day and in the same general locality the department's announcement said the steamship Manx King was held up by a submarine and after the crew had taken to the boats, the Germans put bombs on the vessel. The crew, however, did not see the ship sink.

The German official communication in dealing with the fighting of Monday says the Germans took 13,000 prisoners. The French on their part are reported to have taken thousands of captives and it is known that the Americans have made prisoners of between 1,000 and 1,500 Germans. In addition the Americans, French and Italians have inflicted terrible losses on the enemy by the accuracy of their cannon, machine gun and rifle fire.

President Wilson has agreed to the enlistment of his personal stenographer, Charles Swen, and the young man will join the army aviation service Aug. 1. Swen, who has reported the president's speeches and written his letters for more than five years, has been eager to get into the service ever since the war started, but until now the president would not approve. Secretary Tamm's stenographer, Warren Johnson, also is about to join the army with his chief's consent.

Lieut. John McArthur of Buffalo Wednesday afternoon drove down a two-seater German airplane in a flight which began over the allied line near Dormans and during which the American pilot flew within 100 feet of the ground at places where German anti-aircraft and machine gunners abounded. There were several bullet holes in McArthur's machine, fired from guns on the ground. While returning to the American lines Mc-Arthur encountered eight enemy machines but fought all of them off and landed safely. The machine driven down by Lieut. McArthur is the third in his credit.

WITH THOSE IN THE UNITED STATES SERVICE.

William Booth Covert, son of William Covert, of Washington, a former resident of Evansville, and nephew of Charles H. Covert, of this city, although he was badly wounded in the Arras battle at Vimy Ridge and is now in Chicago as a living example of what the American surgeons are doing in France, is trying to join the marines to get back to France to be in at the killing when the flag of Germany is trailed in defeat.

Covert is only 20 years of age.
When he tried to enlist in Washington there was objection to his age, so he went to Canada, where he enlisted in the Twenty-ninth Infantry, in what is known as Tobin's Tigers.
After four months' training he was sent to France and soon thereafter got into real action.

Reservists.

TO BAR FOOD CORNERS

France Plans to Prevent Boost in Prices.

Food Minister is Inclined Toward Monthly Rationing Scheme—Potatoes Plentiful.

Paris.—M. Victor Boret, the French food minister, it is said will bring before the cabinet important measures for preventing the increase in meat prices and in the cornering of supplies. The commission that he sent to London, it is understood, has reported unfavorably on the introduction, for the present at least, of the English meat card.

The French bread card has given good results and the food minister inclines toward the monthly meat card, which for 10 days will entitle the holder to two and a half ounces of meat, for eight days four and a half ounces of tripe, rabbit or fowl, and for four days six ounces of cold meat.

He points out that the French herds have suffered much more than the English, there being larger supplies of fish and frozen meat in France than in England. M. Boret adds that there are plenty of potatoes, that he is trying to increase the catch of fish, and that larger quantities of macaroni in its various forms will be available.

Parisians who sometimes find that their baker supplies them with bread of a darker flour than usual are advised in a note issued by the food minister not to make this a reason for buying at another shop. The explanation in the color is due to the fact that some of the wheat imported from the United States is for reasons of tonnage economy not refined to the same degree as in France, and transport difficulties sometimes prevent the making of uniform mixtures. As the same variety of flour is rarely delivered twice in succession to the same baker, it is in the customer's interest that he should always make his purchase at the same shop.

FIRST WOMAN ARMY OFFICER

Lieut. Edith Smith, the first woman ever given a bona fide commission in the United States army, has taken up her duties as a contract surgeon at Fort McPherson. Lieutenant Smith is a graduate of the Ohio University School of Medicine and studied for several years abroad, being for a time associated with E. H. Huxtable, the world-famous obstetrician and gynecologist.

POETS HONOR WAR HEROES

Names of Four Who Gave Lives in scribed on Ambulances Donated for Italy.

New York.—The names of four heroes of the war will be inscribed on ambulances donated by the American poets' ambulances in Italy, according to an announcement by Robert Underwood Johnson, chairman of the fund.
The honor will be paid to Curtis Reaman Read of New York city, American aviator killed in France; John Kipling, son of Rudyard Kipling, who is presumed to have been killed while in action with the British forces; Antonio Remati, the Italian aviator, who was killed recently in an accident at Milano, N. Y., and Commander Hixco of the Italian navy, hero of the recent sinking of an Austrian dreadnaught off the Dalmatian coast.

These four ambulances are the last of 110 provided by the fund.

WOMEN FORM SECTION GANG

Seven of Them Give Capable Service on Stretch of Track in Washington.

Cattle Rock, Wash.—Six married women and one who hopes eventually to be married form a section gang that is caring for a stretch of double-track-ed main line of the Northern Pacific north of this town. The fair-weather seven are in charge of a regular section gang foreman, and he reports the women do just as efficient work as the 15 men who formerly made up his gang.

THE HOMELY MAN

By VINCENT G. PERRY.

(Copyright, 1918, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

"The kind of girl he would marry would not marry him and the kind of girl that would marry him he wouldn't have, so there you are." Donald Macbeth could not help overhearing these words as he sat in a quiet corner of the clubroom, unnoticed. A feeling of resentment rose in his heart for the men were discussing him. He took a more careful look at them. They were the two he had thought, Ian Vining and Lorne Miller, two clubmen with whom he was fairly intimate.

"But why?" questioned Vining. "He's clever and moderately well off. He's considered one of the painters of the day."

"Yes; but did you ever see a homely man? That scar on his face makes him positively hideous," Miller declared.

"Beauty is only skin deep," argued Vining, who wasn't handsome himself.
"So it is, but disfigurements cannot be overlooked. There is generally something pleasant in a homely man's face to detract from his features."

"I am sure his eyes are kind and sympathetic. Have you ever seen a picture of him before he had that scar?"

"No; I thought he was born that way," Miller said with a show of interest.

Vining led him to a group picture on the wall. "There he is, there," he pointed out. "Can't you recognize the eyes? He was handsome then."

"Yes," Miller agreed, "he was. I can hardly credit that it is the same man. But even that is no argument.
He is as homely as sin now and is the only man I know of in the club who is doomed to bachelorhood. Imagine a pretty woman married to a man like that."

"He might find it hard to get a wife, at that," Vining said after a moment's thought. "Let's leave that to him, though. How about the theater tonight? Marguerite Morton is playing her farewell before going into the movies. She's a dream! Will you come?"

Miller needed no second invitation.
After they had gone Donald Macbeth got up and went to the group on the wall. It was a long time since he had looked on the smiling, handsome face that had once been his; he wished he had not looked at it. What was the use? It only made it harder to bear.
The light behind him reflected his features on the glass and he turned away with a shudder. No, he had no right to ask any woman to marry such a homely man as he was. He would give Marguerite a chance to break her engagement for that night—the night she was leaving the old life behind and was going into something new.
In a few months she would be as popular, universally, as she was in the city.

He arrived at the theater just after the curtain had gone up. From the moment Marguerite fitted onto the stage he was entranced. How adorable she was.

In another part of the house Vining and Miller were watching the play and were almost as enthusiastic over it as Donald. Miller had not been a follower of Marguerite's, but this play appealed to him.

After the play was over he persuaded Vining to accompany him behind the scenes.

"I'm going to meet that little lady and take her to a little supper. If it costs me a million in tips," he said.
But even generous tipping couldn't get him any farther than behind the scenes.

"Miss Morton doesn't receive visitors," the man at the door told him,
"but I will take your card to her." Miller hoped she would connect his name with his father's millions. It had always proved enough introduction to the other actresses that he had honored with a visit. What would his father say if he married an actress?
He would not object to one like Marguerite Morton. Wouldn't they make a handsome couple? He twisted his mustache before a mirror on the wall.
He was handsome, there was no denying it. He had reason to be conceited, he felt. Vining watched him with just a trace of a smile playing about his lips. "Some day, Mr. Man, you'll get a shock to your vanity," he said in himself, "and I'd like to be around when you get it."

The man returned with the card.
"Miss Morton can't see you, sir," he said politely.

"Miss Morton considers herself too important," Miller flashed. "She's only an actress after all."

"You'd better not say anything agin Miss Morton here, sir," the man counteracted. "She's mighty popular with us all. There's a young man in there now who fought a lion to save her life, and he won't let her go. She's going to marry him tonight, sir. She just informed me. He's a fine young man and she's a fine girl—the finest in the land, and I wouldn't mind fightin' a lion for a girl like her myself, though I ain't got much beauty to get spilt."

The men were still talking when Marguerite's door opened and she came out, her arm in Donald Macbeth's. She was looking up into his face, smiling sweetly, noticing nothing but him. Macbeth caught a glance of the two men standing there with incredulously written in every feature. There was a smile of victory on his face when he turned his eyes once more to Marguerite's and whispered to her softly.

Cliff Swallow's Revenge.

L. M. Hollingsworth tells a story of the way a cliff swallow treated a blue bird who had stolen its nest:

"While making my home with grandmother, an uncle told me the following incident in the life of the cliff swallows. One spring, on returning to their old home under the eaves, a pair of the swallows found their nest already in possession of a pair of earlier blue birds. They tried in vain to drive them out. At last they called a council of war in which the whole company joined. After reaching a decision, they formed a constant line of swallows from the horse pond to the nest, each carrying a little pellet of mud. Each one built his pellet into the mouth of the nest until they had the blue bird that held the nest walled up within it. The nest afterward became dislodged and fell with the carcass of the blue bird still within it. The bird had died in its prison."

INCORPORATED

OL ROOSEVELT IN BIG SPEECH

BEFORE THE NEW YORK STATE RE-PUBLICAN CONVENTION
PLEADS FOR REPUBLICAN
RULE.

(By Associated Press.)

Saratoga, N. Y., July 19.—Theodore Roosevelt emphasized "the necessity of electing a Republican Congress" in an address here today before the New York State unofficial Republican State Convention.

The events of the past year and a half have shown that a Republican Congress is necessary, the former president said, "to support the Administration at every point where it is vigorously prosecuting the war, and to supply its deficiencies in the prosecution of the war and in carrying out of a proper world policy."

"This country needs," the Colonel declared, "a Congress which will give the Administration this kind of vigorous support, and yet will fearlessly supervise and when necessary investigate what is being done."

"Since the war began the Republicans in Congress have acted in a spirit of the largest patriotism, and wholly without regard to questions of politics for the administration assures designed to efficiently carrying on the war they have furnished larger per centage of support than the Democrats; and where the administration was wrong, the bulk of the Republicans ventured to withstand it and have stood by the country, whereas the bulk of the Democrats have not done so; although there have been some conspicuous and honorable exceptions."

"It is only by such conduct that we can win the war and secure the right kind of peace. The need in Congress is for loyal Americans, far-sighted, strong-willed, resolute, who will represent the people of this country, and who shall stand steadfastly by the nation as a whole."

The right kind of peace, the peace which America must insist upon, Col. Roosevelt said, was "a peace conditioned upon the complete overthrow of Germany and the removal of all threat of German world dominion." In fighting against disloyalty in America, against all foreign racial solidarity in this country, he declared, "we must treat agitation for a premature or inconclusive peace as treason to the Republic." The German spy, the "alien enemy here at home," and the "even fouler and more despicable passive American who serves the alien," the Colonel said, should be interned at hard labor, or, if caught in a flagrant offense, should be shot.

Alluding to "a most gallant American army" across the seas, and to ship and airplane production, the Colonel said that "we owe much of this achievement to the work of the Senate Committee on Military Affairs, and we owe even more to the success of the German drive which began in March."

"We have played a poor part in the early stages of the world war," the Colonel continued. "Let us make the finishing of the war an American task. By this time next year we ought to have overseas an army as great as the combined armies of France and England, an army of between 3,000,000 and 4,000,000 fighting soldiers on the various fighting fronts, and this, considering replacements and non-combatants, means at least 6,000,000 men."

"Congress should refuse assent to the War Department's present policy of procrastination, in deferring the necessary extension of the age limits for the draft, and in other ways. There should be no further delay. Besides enormously strengthening our army in France we should by this time have declared war on Turkey and have sent 100,000 soldiers to aid our Allies in Western Asia. We have had to use English ships to carry our troops across the Atlantic and we could use Japanese ships to carry them across the Pacific."

"There must be no peace until Germany is beaten to her knees. To leave her with a stranglehold on Russia, and through her vassal Allies, Austria, Bulgaria and Turkey, dominant in Central Europe and Asia Minor, would mean that she had won the war and taken a great stride toward world dominion."

ward world dominion."

Belgium must be reinstated and reimbursed, France receive Alsace, Turkey driven from Europe, the Colonel said, Italian-Austria must go to Italy and Rumanian-Hungary to Rumania, and Armenia must be free, the Jews given Palestine and the Syrian Christians be protected, with the Poles and other Slav races released from the menace of the German sword. "Unless we do all this," he declared, "we shall have failed in making the liberty of well-behaved civilized peoples secure, and we shall have shown that our announcement about making the world safe for democracy was an empty boast."

"These are the tasks set us as regards winning the war and ending the war," he continued. "Therefore the man elected this fall should not only be absolutely loyal but possessed of broad vision, sound common sense, high character and unyielding resolution; for they must grapple with tremendous international questions. A timid man, a half-hearted pacifist or a foolish visionary may do as incalculable harm as the demagogue or conscienceless political trickster. And of course no disloyal man and woman of merely lukewarm loyalty should be chosen, no matter what the ticket on which he runs."

Looking forward to "the giant tasks of peace," Col. Roosevelt said there must be universal obligatory military training. "Such training," he declared, "would instill into our people a fervent and intense Americanism which would forever free us from menace of Bolshevism and all its American variety, from the frank homicidal march of the I. W. W. to the sinister anti-Americanism of the Germanized socialistic party."

While there will be peculiar need for supervision of big business after the war, the Colonel said, business should not be penalized merely because of its size. Government ownership should be avoided wherever possible, he declared. The Colonel concluded his address by discussing briefly his policies urging Federal suffrage for women, better conditions for laboring men, more industrial reward and benefit for farmers, and kindred reforms which he said were certain to confront the nation with the dawn of peace.

MOTHERS OF SOLDIERS.

The following lines from Captain John A. Nelson, I. M. R. C., Hoboken, N. J., dated July 11th, to Mrs. R. B. Hughes, of Bowling Green, whose son was killed, will be of interest:

"My Dear Madam:
"I beg to assure you that we appreciate the feeling you have regarding the intimate personal belongings of the sons whom you have given to the service of their country, and we regard it as a sacred duty to do everything in our power to recover and deliver all these things that mean so much to you.
"Let me ask you to be consoled with the thought that your boy and other boys, in giving their lives for others, have done that which is greater than any act of man's career and given imperishable glory to their names."
